

Gloucester County Business Association selects Pennsylvania administrator to manage benefits offerings for 300 member companies

Complete selection of employer health benefits will be offered

Woodbury, NJ – June 29, 2005 –Anne Gualtieri, vice president and general manager of The Administrators, Inc. (TAI), announced today that TAI has been selected by New Jersey’s Gloucester County Business Association (GCBA).

Gualtieri said, “We are gratified that the GCBA, with its pick of many fine administrators, saw the benefit of utilizing the experience and scope of services offered by our organization. We plan to offer a full menu of consumer-directed health benefits to members and prospective members of the GCBA. We appreciate the rapid growth of the GCBA which in just a few years has become the largest business organization in the county and we are pleased to become a part of the effort to continue that growth.”

TAI is also involved with one of its larger clients, Midlantic Business Alliance, in a program to offer exit strategies to Philadelphia businesses that are unable to compete because of the current tax structure in the city. Stephen Markowitz, TAI’s Chief Executive Officer, previously announced that Gloucester County is one of the target areas it hopes to promote for relocation. Markowitz indicated he expected GCBA to become the leading resource in this effort. He also indicated he hopes to bring GCBA and Midlantic Business Alliance together for talks about how they might merge efforts in serving the greater New Jersey business community.

TAI, with offices in Broomall, Pennsylvania provides benefits, association management, membership marketing, consulting, communications, public relations and general business guidance to approximately 16,000 companies with 85,000 employees belonging to 16 different business organizations in the tri-state area.
